Farm Talk—

Navarro County's Interest In Farm Leases Praised By Economics Expert

"Navarro county farmers are showing more interest in the landlord-tenant lease situation than any other group," says Joe Motheral, associate professor of Economics at Texas A. and M. College.

Motheral was in Corsicana last week, engaged in a project study of the success of landlord-tenant agreements. His official report for the extension service, however, will come later.

Record Good Here

Securing a long-term agreement between the farm owner and the tenant is one of the big agricultural problems now being tackled in Texas. Navarro county's apparently good record along this line is further proof of its progressive growth. Here's why:

The huge winter cover crops and fertilizers have resulted from better landlord-tenant relations. The overall result is soil improvement and higher yields.

General farm improvements, involving fences, barns, pastures, tanks, livestock, are due greatly to a better understanding between landlord and tenant.

Without a sound agreement that contains an automatic lease renewal clause and a termination notice requirement, the tenant farmer fails to practice soil improvement methods which bring long-time profits. Instead, he squeezes all he can from the tired land, which slowly enters the unproductive stage.

This problem, indicated Motheral, is being met by Navarro countians. "This can be attributed to such people like County Agent W. H. Walker and Ralph Evans, coordinator of the Veterans Agricultural School," Motheral said.

Purpose Explained

While going through a huge stack of lease agreements made by approximately 130 GI farm trainees, the College Station specialist paused at his temporary courthouse headquarters long enough to praise the community's soil-tillers and explain the purpose of his task.

"Thousands of form lease agreements were prepared by College Station in 1946," he related. "These were widely distributed over Texas. Their effectiveness in accomplishing a long-term agreement—so as to bring about soil improvement and increased yields—has not been determined."

Motheral and other extension service officials are analyzing the lease-agreement service data on the good points and the bad points.

The top feature of the agreement is a contract between the parties setting forth an automatic renewal of the lease, provided the landlord does not comply with the provision relating to "notice of termination."

Some 30 Navarro county farmers and agricultural leaders plan to tour the Texas Research Foundation at Renner Tuesday. They'll view the foundation's pasture development program and black lands.

Nationalists Say Formosa Invasion Scheme Disrupted

TAIPEI, May 22.—(AP)—Nationalists Chinese say the Communists schedule for the invasion of Formosa has been disrupted by the bloodless withdrawal from the Chushan Islands.

They have two theories as to the first Red intention:

That the Communists intended to destroy the Nationalist forces there before attacking Formosa, or that the Reds would have skipped the Chushans altogether and invaded Formosa.

One thing the Communists did not figure was the Nationalist abandonment of the islands, 100 miles southeast of Shanghai. That move saved 150,000 troops, who have been moved to Formosa.

Because of this increased strength here, Nationalsitists say the Communist must revise their invasion plans.

Chinese newspapers say Gen. Chen Yi, Red commander in East China, has been strongly reprimanded by the Peiping government for failure to disturb the Nationalist withdrawal.

The newspapers add that Soviet advisers to the Communists also are displeased with Chen.

The Communists are supposed to have had long range, Russian supplied artillery on islands adjacent to Chushan and could have slaughtered thousand of Nationalists if they had opened up on the withdrawing troops.

North Carolina Primary Is Next 'Fair Deal' Test

WASHINTON, May 22.—(AP)—A North Carolina primary this week may show in more detail how Southern Democratic viters feel about President Truman's "Fair Deal" program.

North Carolinians vote Saturday on a three-man senate race after a hot campaign that has revoloved round the issues of Communism, Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) proposals and the "planned state."

Senator Frank P. Graham, friend of the president who is described by his backers as an outstanding Southern Liberal, is seeking the party senatorial nomination in a race that may show how the wind is blowing nationally in some issues.

Graham is opposed by Willis Smith, Raleigh lawyer and former president of the American Bar Association, and former Senator Robert R. Reynolds.

8 Hospitalized After Wreck At Kerens Sunday

A head-on collision of two cars near Kerens Sunday afternoon sent eight persons to hospitals in Corsicana and Athens. Two were reported in serious condition.

The cars crashed about four miles east of Kerens at 4:20 p. m., Highway Patrolman Henry Tucker, who investigated, reported.

V. T. Ward of Palestine, one of the drivers, and Mrs. Harry Selden of Palestine, a passenger, were reported seriously injured.

Others in the same car receiving minor injuries were Mrs. V. T. Ward, her daughter, Mary Vaughn Ward; Harry Selden, Jr., and Jack Crowder, all of Palestine.

All were taken to an Athens hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo O. James of Dallas were taken to Corsicana hospitals for treatment of minor injuries. Mrs. James, treated at P. and S. Hospital, suffered shock; and her husband, taken to the Corsicana Hospital and Clinic, suffered lacerations and bruises.

Several Corsicana ambulances and law enforcement officers rushed to the scene.

Socialization of Ruhr Industries Is Demanded Before Pooling Attempted

HAMBURG, May 22—(AP)—West Germany's socialists demanded today that the Ruhr's industries be taken over by the state before consenting to any agreement for pooling German-French coal and steel resources.

Dr. Kurt Schumacher, leader of the Social Democrats, said his party felt that socialization of the Ruhr's industries should supplant international control. Only then, he told an annual convention of the party, could the Socialists agree to the pooling plan suggested by Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France.

Schumacher's party is the main opposition to the government headed by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, who in a speech Sunday at Cologne said the French plan would eliminate French-German tension over the Saar.

Adenauer told a North-Rhine Westphalia state election campaign rally that, with the Saar region's coal output going into a common pool, the question of whether the disputed territory was French or German would lose its significance.

The coal-rich Saar basin has been a center of dispute between Germany and France for more than 150 years. It was returned to Germany after a plebicite prior to World War II. After the war, France promised the Saar limited automony in return for rights to its coal production.

Adenauer said he expects to confer this week with Jean Monnet, French economic adviser credited with aiding French Fereign Minister Robert Schuman on details of the merger plan.

Adenauer also called on West Germany to accept an invitation to join the European Council and to take all necessary steps to make the Schuman plan a reality.

South Amboy Returns To Business Amid Din Of Exploding Shells, Bombs

SOUTH AMBOY, N. J., May 22.—(AP)—Blasted South Amboy returned to business-as-usual today, but army officials said it would be three to four days before the danger of live shells is removed.

Demolition squads combed the waterfront area and the mile-square city for shells and fuses scattered everywhere in Friday night's blast disaster.

Lt. Hugh Casey, in charge of the demolition team, warned there would be more blasts as mines are detonated. He said more than 3,000 mines already had been picked up in the wreckage of the weekend disaster that took 27 lives.

School children were on a holiday, their classrooms damaged beyond immediate repair. Officials said there would be no more classes this school term, but seniors would be graduated despite incompleted courses.

Cheerful shopkeepers turned to their boarded up stores in the business district this morning and carried on as usual behind scenes of debris and wreckage.

The state of emergency continued, with Army, state police and Red Cross units still on the job.

Police said there were no hardship cases and no residents suffered from lack of food or shelter.

Laborites May Change Plans To Avoid Election

LONDON, May 22.—(AP)—Britains labor government chiefs indicated today they may water down their Socialist projects and try to rule for at least another year with their skimpy majority in parliament.

The party strategy, details of which are still secret, was mapped at a weekend meeting of Prime Minister Attlee, top ccabinet ministers, trade union leaders and spokemen for the co-operative movement.

When the talk ended Labor leaders let the news leak they were ready for an election at any time—but as some Laborites see it the next national election may be put off until as late as the autumn of 1951.

There is always a chance, however, that Winston Churchill's conservatives can force a new election sooner by taking advantage of a sudden surge of illness that might upset Labor's six-vote majority in Commons on a major issue.

IOOF Nursery Unit Dedicated In Sunday Rites

The new nursery building at the IOOF Home was fittingly dedicated in ceremonies staged Sunday at 11 a. m.

This new $25,000 structure, the gift of San Antonio Lodge No. 11, will care for 12 pre-school age students. It is located immediately east of the auditorium and will give the pre-schoolers ample accommodations.

San Antonio Lodge No. 11 sent a specially-chartered bus here for the ceremonies attended by high figures in the order from all branches, along with a liberal sprinkling of former Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly leaders.

W. R. Thrailkill, San Antonio, chairman of the committee that erected the building, was master of ceremonies. Following two verses of America, the invocation was given by Conley Lovelace director of Boys Ranch, near Dallas, formerly superintendent of the Home, and to whom Thrailkill ascribed the idea for the building.

Ex-Prosecutor And Gambler Are Indicted By Jury

KANSAS CITY, May 22—(AP)—Sam Hayden, former assistant Jackson county prosecutor, and Thomas (Tano) Lococo, identified as a gambler, were indicted today on income tax evasion charges.

Hayden, discharged as a prosecutor when the Federal grand jury identified him as a gambling house partner, was said by the Federal grand jury to have filed an income tax return of $4.500 in 1948. Actually, the jury said, his income was $10,569.63.

Lococo was indicted on five counts, the alleged evasion of payments covering the years 1944 through 1948. The true bill set forth that he made returns of $65,588.39 for those years, while actually his return should have been $130,250.27.

U. S. District Judge Richard M. Duncan allowed bond.

Both Hayden and Lococo were named by the grand jury in its recent interim report which exposed a $34.500,000-a-year gambling and racket gross here.

Lococo long has been identified with gambling and rackets here.

The grand jury has been levelling its main fire at Lococo for two weeks.

Tulsa Officer's Wife Confesses Kidnaping Hoax

OKLAHOMA CITY, May 22.—(AP)—The distraught young wife of a vice squad officer admitted today the bizarre 21-hour kidnaping chase she led police Sunday was spurred by her own imagination.

Mrs. Jo Alice Raper, 23, abruptly halted a frantic police hunt when she called her husband, C. V. Raper, from a suburban filling station and asked him to come get her.

But Detective Chief Dwight Brown said officers still hadn't found all the pieces to the puzzling case. He said Raper and his fellow officers feared Mrs. Raper had been overpowered by kidnapers taken nude from her bedroom and held captive as revenge on her husband, who is assigned to the police gambling detail.

However, after long questioning Brown said, Mrs. Raper broke down and admitted the whole affair was a "figment of my imagination."

National Foundation Report Research For Possible Polio Cure Is 'Sound'

NEW YORK, May 22—(AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said today that research for a polio cure is "on solid ground."

The Foundation emphasized that it still is impossible to promise a practical means of control within a given number of years. But it added:

"The Foundation's program of research has developed scientific reasons for the belief that such control is attainable, and it has promising leads that indicate that drugs, serums and vaccines against polio are all within the realm of possibility."

"It appears likely that 1949 will prove to have been a turning point in the history of infantile paralysis," said the Foundation's president, Basil O'Connor. "We may be able to halt the rising tide of polio in the not-too-distant future."

The predictions were contained in the Foundation's 12th annual report—which also told the story of 1949, the country's worst polio epidemic year in history. Texas had more cases than any other state.

The report said the Foundation aided 80 per cent of the 42,375 new patients last year, sent out a record number of respirators—803—to hospitals, and spent more than $27,000,000 on patients.

The cash payments totalled $11,326,387 from the national headquarters, and $16,000,000 from the Foundation's 2,822 local chapters. The strain of the epedimic exhausted the funds of nearly half of the chapters, or 1.089, and forced the national organization to raise nearly $4.000,000 more in an emergency drive.

This was in addition to the regular March of Dimes fund, half of which goes to the local chapters and half to the national office. O'Connor said about 17,000 of last year's patients will need continuing care in 1950.

On the research front, the Foundation reported these new advances:

40 Bodies Found In Wreckage Of Old Inca Capital

CUZCO, Peru, Mal 22—(AP)—Forty bodies have been dug out of the rubble in this earthquake-devastated former capital of the Incas. Police Chief Luis Tapaychi said today the death toll would reach at least 60. That is 10 higher than the previous estimate. Other sources set the toll over 100, with another 200 injured.

Rescue squads poked through ruined buildings where Tapayachi said other bodies were certain to be found.

An emergency airlift sped food, doctors and medical supplies from Lima to treat injured by the 12-second earthquake. The rescue crews were dispatched on order of President Manuel Odria Amoretti.

Tapayachi said most victims were crushed by stones from falling church towers.

The quake struck at 12:41 p. m. (CST) Sunday. The terrified residents of this city of 45,000 rushed into the streets. Cuzco is 340 miles southeast of Lima.

Among the towers which toppled were those on Santo Dominga church, erected on the ruins of the Inca temple of the sun. Terrified citizens knelt in prayer before a statue of Christ on Cuzco's main plaza.

End Of Congress By Midsummer Is Lucas' Hope

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—Senator Lucas (D-Ill) said today he will try to agree with Republicans on a schedule aimed at a midsummer adjournment of congress.

The senate Democratic leader said the possibilities of limiting congress' work to several major issues will be discussed with President Truman Tuesday.

After that, Lucas said he hopes to sit down this week with Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the GOP policy committee, and see if some agreement can be worked out on a list of bills for senate action.

The house, abreast of its work, may have most of its major legislation out of the way by the end of June. Lucas and Taft have been aiming for an August 1 adjournment, since both face stiff re-election contests.

The house is busy this week on draft, military and foreign aid legislation while the senate wrangles over civil rights and reorganization.

Data On Negroes In Armed Forces Cited To Solons

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—President Truman prodded the senate to vote on his FEPC bill today in commending a committee which has been working for months to increase opportunities of negroes in the armed services.

Truman said he hoped the senate "will permit" his bill for a fair employment practice commission "to come to a vote." Southern Democrats have filibustered the bill. Truman Democrats failed last week in an effort to shut off debate although all but six of the Republicans voted with them.

The measure would declare it against public policy for industry to discriminate because of race or religion when hiring, firing or advancing workers. A commission would be set up to police industry against discrimination.

Truman issued a statement plugging for FEPC on receiving a report from a committee he created two years ago to study armed service policies in relation to minority groups.

That report predicted there will be equality of treatment and opportunity for all persons in the armed forces "within the reasonably near future." It predicted also that a gain in military efficiency will result.

The report said the army announced in January that negro soldiers could qualify for all army jobs; that the air force has opened all its jobs and school to negroes, and that negroes are serving in every naval general rating.

Truman noted in his statement that the report came at a time when the senate is considering a motion to take up a fair employment practices bill. Then he added:

"The work of the President's committee on equality of treatment and opportunity in the armed services shows what can be accomplished by a commission in this admittedly difficult field.

"I hope the senate will take this report into consideration as it debates the merits of FEPC, and that, as I urged in my State of the Union message in January, it will permit this important measure to come to a vote."

Truman went on to say that "equality of treatment and oppor-

Reorganization Defeats Blamed On Administration

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—The Senate decisively turned back today efforts to kill President Truman's reorganization plans for the Federal Trade and Power Commissions, by votes of 37 to 34, and 37 to 36. A total of 49 votes against a plan is required.

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—Senator Benton (D-Conn) said today the administration is partly to blame for the senate killing five of President Truman's reorganizations plan.

The plans, he said, were not adequately presented to congressional leaders in advance and were not supported vigorously, in many cases, by the agencies involved. He said the plans also suffered because of a lack of effective support within the senate.

Shortly before Benton spoke, President Truman called in Senator McClellan, chairman of the senate committee on expenditures in the executive departments, for a conference on the reorganization program.

McClellan told reporters Truman said he'd like a little more progress. McClellan said he was in accord with that.

With a vote due on Truman's plan to revamp the federal trade commission, administration leaders had one cheering note. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he will oppose efforts to junk any more of the plans.

Solomon Cited As Life Example By CHS Speaker

BY CLYDE E. JOHNSON
Daily Sun Staff.

The best in life does not come from earthly things, or from the pursuit of pleasures, members of the 1950 Corsicana High School graduating class were told Sunday night at the annual baccalaureate service.

The speaker was Rev. A. J. Kirkland, pastor of the Missionary Baptist church.

Before a capacity crowd in the CHS auditorium, which was jammed with about 120 students and hundreds of parents, Kirkland told the story of wise King Solomon.

Although possessed with riches, unlimited power and vast wisdom, King Solomon continued to seek "something more," the speaker declared.

"With all the wisdom God had given him, King Solomon didn't have all he wanted," he said. "Finally, he mastered all the literary works of that day; he became a scientist and studied nature—the bees and flowers. But he was not yet satisfied."

Parents Of Rape Victim Withdraw 'Mercy' Request

FORT WORTH, May 22—(AP)—The parents of William Ruthes Ray's little rape victim withdrew today their request that Ray's sentence be changed to life imprisonment.

They said they changed their minds because "we have learned that in Texas a life sentence does not mean the man will stay in the penitentiary for the rest of his life, but can get out after he has served a number of years."

Ray got a 20-day reprieve Friday, seven hours before he was to walk to the electric chair.

The reprieve was recommended by two State Board of Pardons and Paroles members when the little girl's parents appeared before them.

Today, in a letter and affidavit sent to the Board by registered airmail, the parents asked that their previous statement "be withdrawn from consideration x x x and be disregarded entirely."

The girl's parents asked for the "understanding of the people of Fort Worth."

Ray, 35, was convicted of raping a 9-year-old Fort Worth girl in Trinity Park here April 8, 1949. His mother, Mrs. Ed Ray of Vernon, carried appeals twice to the Court of Criminal Appeals and even polled members of the jury in attempts to save her son's life.

Russians Hover Around Area Of Navy Maneuvers

PORTLAND, Eng., May 22.—(AP)—Western Nation naties self-consciously opened hush-hush sea maneuvers today—with 30 deadpan Soviet skippers within radar range.

The Russian mothership Tambov and her 29 trawlers and coasters—officially on a sprat and sardine fishing jaunt from the Baltic to the Black Sea—were off Falmouth Sunday when the British cruisers Superb and Cleopatra plus four destroyers left Portland for the maneuver areas south of Britain.

Then the Russians upped anchor and moved nine miles westward to Mounts Bay, where they re-anchored.

"Just changing anchorage" was the Soviet reply to a hopeful message from shore officials.

First moves in the meneuvers are slated for today, when three Dutch submarines pull out of Portland on their way to the maneuver areas. The Royal Air Force coastal command planned mock attacks on them.

Sunday, the British Aircraft carrier Theseus—which is not taking part in the maneuvers—popped up unannounced in Mounts Bay beside the Russians.

Navy officers here kept the admiralty in London posted on movements of the sprat fleet, British newspapers were highly suspicious, and enterprising South Coast boatmen were running trips "around the Russian fleet" at eight shillings ($1.12) a trip.

One-Inch Drop In River Heightens Winnipeg's Hopes

WINNIPEG, May 22.—(AP)—The rampaging Red River eased its hold today on the twin cities of Winnipeg and St. Boniface as the flood-swollen waters slowly began to ebb.

Early this morning the official reading here had dropped one inch in the last 13 hours. Still greater drops were reported all along the river's tortuous course from flooded Emerson at the international border.

The weather forecast brightened hopes, too. Drying winds were predicted, with only occasional scattered showers throughout the Red River Valley.

It seemed apparent that the Red River's wobbly crest had passed beyond the metropolitan area toward Lake Winnipeg. The public was cautioned against over-optimism, however.

Spokesmen for Coal Miners, Operators Urge Congress to Curb Imports of Oil

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—Spokesmen for coal miners and operators urged Congress to curb oil imports which they said are causing thousands to lose their jobs.

D. T. Buckley, of the National Coal Association, and Thomas Kennedy, vice president of the United Mine Workers, protested at a Senate Labor sub-committee hearing that foreign oil is being dumped at unfair prices.

"The equivalent of a year's work for 50.000 miners in the bituminous coal industry is being destroyed by foreign oil at the current rate of importation," Buckley said.

Kennedy said that 100,000,000 barrels of residual oil—that is, oil used for fuel or industrial purposes—was imported last year and either put 25,000 coal miners out of work or reduced their work week. He said the oil was marketed "at ridiculously low prices."

Buckley estimated last year's oil imports cost 25,000 miners and 25,000 transport workers their jobs and said these figures could be doubled in 1950 if the present trend continues.

They testified at the opening of the subcommittee's hearing on a resolution by Senator Neely (D-W.Va.) to investigate the causes of "increasing unemployment" in the coal, railroad, oil, zinc, lead and silver industries.

Kennedy said that if the present flow of imported oil continues and increases, "as the prospect seems to indicate, we shall witness a complete disrupting and revamping of our American fuel pattern."

President Pledges U. S. Aid To Plans To Balk Soviets

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(AP)—President Truman today assailed Russia's boycott of the United Nations over the Chinese Communist issue as a "willful flouting" of the UN charter.

Te told congress the word organization is sensibly carrying on "business as usual."

The chief executive attacked the Russian refusal to attend UN sessions with Chinese Nationalist delegates, in a report to congress in which he also said that the year 1949 produced a tightening of the East-West conflict.

After reviewing numerous specific issues on which he said the Soviets blocked constructive action in the UN last year, Truman declared:

"The year ended with a deepening of the tension which has marked international relations throughout the postwar period."

He said this was true for many reasons—which still hold good in the middle of 1950. Among them he listed failure to agree on an atomic control plan, failure to progress toward ending the armaments race, and the tendency of the Soviets, while blocking German and Japanese peace settlement, to isolate themselves increasingly from the rest of the world.

In this connection the president noted for the first time in a United Nations report that Russia now has "possession of the atomic weapon." He gave the world the first official Western report last September 23 when he announced "an atomic explosion" had occurred in the Soviet Union.

The UN report was prepared by the state department and Truman submitted it to con-

Senate Probe Of State Department Hit By McCarthy

WASHINGTON, May 22—(AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) said today the Senate committee investigating his charges of Communism in the State Department is doing a "foul job, and deliberately." He suggested the work ought to be turned over to others.

But it would be only a "senseless gesture" to give the job to an independent commission or anyone else without also giving the investigators full access to government files, McCarthy said.

McCarthy's charges that the State Department is infiltrated with Communists and Red sympathizers are being investigated by a Senate Foreign Relations cubcommittee headed by Senator Tydings (D-Md).

The committee is checking State Department loyalty files on 81 cases cited by McCarthy as bad security risks. After once refusing, President Truman reversed himself and allowed the group to see these files. McCarthy has declared the committee must also be given access to FBI files if his charges are to be proven.

Another Senate investigation into possibly bad security risks—this one concerned with Federal employment of sexual perverts—is about to get under way.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb) said the investigators will have records of the Wasrington police, now impounded.

The Poet Of The People

JUST A SUGGESTION.

I know nothing of business, of losses and gains,
But why do great industries throw away brains?
When good men retire, as they must, is it wise
Not to hold them together at times to advise?

Still able, still willing, they're dropped from the list
With, "Out of the way now! You'll never be missed.
The young men take over the business to run.
We need you no longer. Get out and have fun!"

It is just a suggestion: When good men retire,
Why not keep them enrolled, without hours, without hire?
Why not form an alumni devoted and true,
And keep them from thinking they've nothing to do?

RATING THE PRESIDENTS

President Truman uttered a true word when he said that time would decide his rightful place in history. He was commenting on former Governor Harold E. Stassen's view that he was "one of the cleverest politicians and worst presidents ever to occupy the White House."

Stassen's indictment in part contradicts himself. If the President is a politician of the first rank for cleverness, he has in that an important qualification for success as a chief executive. Managing public opinion, Congress, and the quantity of federal officials who are only partly, and sometimes not at all, under the presidents's control requires peculiar talents. Lack of these talents dooms presidents, even if they have decided abilities of other sorts. Presidents Taft and Hoover offered illustrations of this fact.

A president should have more than the ability to get along with people. McKinley and Coolidge had serene administrations, causing their admirers at the time to rank them with Washington and Lincoln. Such utterances are not heard now.

When history comes to its final conclusion as to the rank of the Truman administration, neither the President nor Governor Stassen is likely to be around to read it.

SCHOOLS IN DANGER

"That building? Oh, that was a school, but they couldn't get any more teachers, so they had to close it up. The kids don't have anywhere to go now."

This conversation may not be imaginary a few years from now, we are warned by a survey made by the National Commission on Teacher Education and Professional Standards. It amounts to this: more and more children are enrolling for school, and fewer and fewer teachers have been secured to care for them. This year 20,000 more qualified elementary teachers will be available, but the need is for 100,000 more. It is easy to figure where the nation will stand if these figures continue for the next ten years.

What is the trouble? In some cases teachers are still underpaid; overcrowded classes are frequent, which means that more schools should be built, and there is somtimes need for a higher ranking for the teacher in the community. Too often certain residents of small towns and villages take it on themesives to pry into and regulate teachers' private lives. They are subjected to such petty tyranny as prohibition of smoking, dancing or movie-going. The local busybodies will have to be put in their place if their towns wish to have good teachers and schools.

Education has generally been esteemed the foundation of the American way of life. Not even a Russian war could do as lasting damage as the collapse of our public schools.

SAVING OR GESTURE?

The House made a dramatic reduction in the federal budget as it passed its omnibus appropriations bill. Do the cuts made by the Appropriations Committee and on the floor that last day of debate, about equal in amount, really mean anything? That does not depend simply on what the Senate does with the appropriaions bill, as might be supposed. It depends also on what Congress does with spending authorizations for the various units of government.

A point which needs more attention is the relation between authorizations and appropriations. The appropriations make a stated amount of money available to each governmental unit. The authorizations, passed separately, tell each unit what activities it may carry out and how much money may be spent or obligated for them. Strangely enough, the amount of money appropriated and the amount of spending authorized for a unit do not necessarily agree. When they do agree, the result is likely to be a deficiency appropriation the following spring, to bring the money available up to the amount authorized to be spent.

It is the authorization of activity and spending, more than the total of budgeted appropriations, which determine the final cost of government. An exception must be made for the situation where the amount of money appropriated might have been more than really needed. Government units, even as mortal humans, are inclined to spend what they have. Unfortunately, they may also be able at times to spend what they do not have. To make the sweeping cut voted by the House more than a gesture, Congress must trim authorizations accordingly.

GERMANY AND THE WEST

The French proposal for pooling of French and German steel and coal industries is not merely economic, it also has immediate controversial political aspects. It would be a positive move toward accepting Western Germany into the family of Western European nations, as an equal. This is a sore subject among those nations which suffered most deeply and directly from German aggressions in the two world wars. The French have stoutly opposed the acceptance of Germany into the Western family, apparently the recent proposal indicates that government leaders have changed their stand. The British remain cool toward Germany. The Low Countries have little love for Germany, but of practical necessity are likely to follow the lead of the major powers.

The most forthright advocate of acceptance of Germany has been the United States. American leaders have maintained that it is neither fitting nor feasible to try to make Germany a vassal state, an outcast or a weakling. The German people can contribute more to European economy and security as full-fledged members of the family. Strong German industry has long been the backbone of European manufacturing and commerce. In practical fact Western Europe needs Germany.

The partition of Germany further complicates the situation. If by this or other moves Western Germany is drawn closer to Western Europe, it must necessarily be further separated from Eastern Germany. Thus the question must always be asked, and seems beyond answering, whether the advantages to be gained by bringing Western Europe into the family are greater or less than the dangers of perpetrating and widening the enforced division of the intensely nationalistic German people.

ed for, the youthful king—in the words of a modern day world—said "I think I'll have a good time; I think I'll be a playboy for awhile—build me a honky-tonk," Kirkland related.

Then, the king decided he'd get married a few times—about 700 in all, with 300 more on the string—and see if that was what he was seeking, the speaker continued.

Kirkland then pointed out that with wine, women and song; with wealth, wisdom and power, Solomon still had not found the best in life.

The king then decided to "rest and sober up a bit," and later he was seen in the Temple teaching—telling his story, the story that Kirkland had just told.

Kirkland concluded by saying God is the best in life—Solomon's God. And the speaker emphasied that "one can not fall so low that God won't take him in."

The program opened at 8 p. m. with the graduating class entering to the tune of "Jubilee March." played by Ruth Elaine Foster, pianist. A congregational hymn, "Holy, Holy, Holy" followed, and then Rev. Herbert G. Dudley of the First Christian Church led in prayer.

Navarro County Lashed By High Winds Saturday

Navarro county was lashed by high winds, electrical disturbances and rain, with hail damage reported in some sections Friday night and Saturday morning.

Trees were uprooted and barns and garages were unroofed at Kerens, Powell, Chatfield and Rice while hail fell in Corsicana, Powell, Chatfield, Rice and Emhouse.

The rainfall in Corsicana was .53 inch.

The telephone company here had little damage, although operators in other county towns reported "terrible times" and much interference.

The Texas Power and Light and REA reported considerable damage in the rural tections.

REA said the worst damage was in the vicinity of Waxahachie and Howard in Ellis county, but some losses are reported at Emhouse, Roane and Kerens.

The Texas Power and Light reported a heavy electrical storm extending from Kerens eastward to Athens with much damage at the Henderson county seat from lightning and winds.

Reports from the various communities included:

Rice—Hail damage, some stones almost an inch in diameter—several garages and outhouses blown down—a cistern tossed off its platform—crops extensively damaged—telephone and electric lines out.

Emhouse—"Plenty of bad weather"—lightning, fuses blown, a heavy hail west of town—no particular damage in Emhouse.

Blooming Grove—Lightning, rains and "a lot of roaring" indicating a hail storm, but no reports had been received early Saturday morning.

Frost—A good shower, lots of lightning and high winds—no damage.

Dawson—Nice shower, lightning.

Richland—Wind, good rain, no damage.

Kerens—"We had the worst time staying at the switchboard," a telephone operator declared. A big rain, a lot of high winds, trees uprooted, several barns blown down.

Roane—"A terrible rain", the operator reported, wind and lightning. Light wores broke, a barn on the V. A. Lonon farm at Powell was blown away. Trees were uprooted and broken at both Powell and Chatfield and some hail damage is feared, according to reports from Roane.

No one was injured.

The rain caused the interruption of road work and farm operations for a short time, but in some communities farm work can be resumed Monday.

Cotton planting is in its final stages, according to reports, while corn plowing is under way in many communities.

High winds are blamed for the breaking of a plate glass window on the side of the P. and S. Pharmacy.

Carter said during his dedicatory address, after quoting New Testament Scriptures relative to the bringing of little children to Jesus that he might bless them, that his lodge "comes to dedicate this nursery to the 'little children' of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, that they may have better training and receive a 'blessing' and we say 'Suffer the little children' to come to this haven that they may more abundantly receive the teachings of an Order, which enjoins us to 'VISIT THE SICK, BURY THE DEAD AND EDUCATE THE ORPHAN.'

"Oddfellowship in Texas is justly proud of its Home here in this thriving little City of Corsicana. This Order has an investment of about $650,000 in this Home and during its more than 65 years of service it has an unsurpassed record of accomplishments. It has reared and educated thousands of boys and girls who have gone out into the world and have made it a better place in which to live." Carter stated.

In his concluding remarks, the speaker said:

"As we dedicate this nursery to the glory of God and to the good of 'our little children' it is done with the prayer that 'Jesus Christ Himself May be the Chief Cornerstone' of this little building and may our Heavenly Father, Who notes the 'fall of a sparrow' bless all the 'little children' who pass through its portals."

UN REPORT

gress with a letter setting forth his personal views.

The letter and report made clear that the president intends to strive for the UN as a universal organization—that is, including the Communist as well as the Western powers. At the same time he emphasized that within this framework the American government intends to do everything it can to strengthen the West and block present Soviet policies.

"Our experiences during 1949 in the United Nations provided further demonstration that, as the secretary of state has recently stated, agreements with the Soviet Union and its satellites are valid only as and when they record existing situations of fact," Truman said.

"It is not enough to hope for agreement or to make proposals; it is essential to create the conditions under which it will be to the interest of the Soviet Union to enter into and to keep agreements. All international activities which create moral, economic and military strength among the nations of the free world will broaden the area of possible agreement and hasten its coming."

The president made two references in his letter to the Soviet UN boycott.

Declaring that "no nation can ignore the question of how its actions will appear in the world forums of the United Nations," Truman said:

"No nation, member or non-member, attending or non-attending, can avoid accountability before the United Nations for actions affecting the peace. The aroused opinion of mankind, when brought to sharp and immediate focus as it often is in the United Nations, is not likely to be dismissed, even by a nation that has strong battalions."

The second reference came when Truman wound up his letter with these statements:

"The walkouts of the Soviet Union over Chinese Nationalist representation in the United Nations occurred since the events of 1949 described in this report. In the presence of this willful flouting by the Soviet government of obligations assumed by it under the charter, the United Nations has taken the common sense attitude by proceeding with its business as usual."

The president praised highly the work of the United Nations in settling the Indonesian dispute, the Arab-Jewish fighting in Palestine, and the India-Pakistan troubles over Kashmier.

He said that "many lives have been saved" as a result of the U. N. work on these disputes last year and that such attacks on specific problems as well as its general work in behalf of peace showed that the UN "is distinguishing between realities and illusions" and is striving for "solid gains through actual performance."

The Seals were mailed to the prospective buyers this year and proved very successful. But the Society is still appreciative of the efforts of the generous-hearted volunteers who sold the Seals in downtown booths for many years.

BLASTED TOWN

All were joining in the big cleanup program.

The remains of a 20-ton phosphorus fire, which flared up Sunday, smouldered near the dock, scene of the explosion Friday night.

Four barges, laden with munitions en route from Newark, O., to Pakistan, exploded friday with a roar heard across the state. The blast left a death toll of 27, wrecked the waterfront of this port 21 miles southwest of New York, injured 350 persons with flying glass in all parts of the town, and did property damage estimated at $7,500,000.

The phosphorus fire startled residents anew as a fast-spreading blaze zigzagged through about 50 drums, raising a pall of ominous white smoke over the stricken city.

State police said the phosphorous drums may have been cracked open by Friday's blast, or by a mine detonated byl Army men. Phosphorus ignites when exposed to air.

The burning chemical set off about 100 more mines. The fire was in the blast-shattered grounds of the American Agricultural company, adjacent to the area of Friday's explosion.

For a time it was feared that a shift in the wind might blow harmful fumes over the city. However police said later that there was no panic and no danger of a general evacuation.

The 27 men lost in Friday's blast were mainly employes of the Jersey City stevedoring firm which contracted to load the munitions. Only four bodies have been recovered, one of them mangled beyond recognition, and officers said it was doubtful if any more would be found whole.

Insurance men looked over the smashed waterfront structures and broken windows throughout the city and estimated damage at $7,500,000.

officials of Hartford, Conn., insurance firms said they would pay about $4,000,000 to policy holders in South Amboy, but added that this was a "tentative guess" which may be boosted higher by payments to injured persons or to survivors of the dead.

An ironical aspect of the disaster was that the 600-ton munitions shipment was the last to be permitted here before enforcement of new coast guard safety regulations.

An official board of inquiry of the coast guard was to hold a hearing in New York today, in an effort to find still undiscovered cause of the blast.

With stained-glass windows broken and boarded up, churches here held Sunday services on open lawns. Many churchgoers were still in bandages as clergymen offered thanks that the disaster had not been greater.

It should serve as "a good argument against all this talk about war and preparing for war," said the Rev. Harry S. Weyrich of Christ Episcopal Church.

Jap Princess Weds Commoner

TOKYO, May 22—(AP)—Princess Taka, attractive second daughter of Emperor Hirohito, satuprday became plain Mrs. Tishimichi Takatsukasa, wife of a $20-a-month museum attendant.

The wedding took place at the home of Prince Takamatsu, Hirohito's brother. The austere Shinto cermony was formal and private—only about 30 members of the two families attended.

It was the first time, so far as is known, that a Japanese Emperor saw one of his children married Thousands of Japanese lined the route from the Imperial palace to the wedding house.

The bridegroom's father, Nobusuke, is chief priest at Meiji Jingu, Tokyo's leading Shinto shrine.

FREE JUKE BOX

LOS ANGELES, May 22—(AP)—The juke box has gone to church. Members of the First Methodist Church don't have to wait for the choir on Sundays to hear hymns and choral arrangements. A converted nickel-a-record machine has been installed in the chapel. It plays for free, religious music and scriptural quotations.

Navarro-Limestone Semi-Pro League Plays Full Slate Sunday Afternoon

The Corsicana Cotton Mill, Emhouse, Rice and Mexia Gushers came out on top in Sunday baseball play in the Navarro-Limestone semi-pro league.

In the only game staged in Corsicana, the Cotton Mill downed the Corsicana Merchants by a 10-3 count on the Millers' diamond. Two home runs by the Merchants' Charlie Smith brought in two runs for the losers, but the Millers kept the game well in hand.

Emhouse and Mexia's Cats staged a slam-bang contest at Emhouse, with the Emhouse crew coming out on top, 3-2. It was the second straight win for the Emhouse crew in as many league contests.

R. M. Drain went the route for the winners, whiffing 16 batters. Trailing 1-0 in the fifth, Emhouse pushed three runs on 2 hits, a secrifice, 1 Mexia error and a walk by Frost, Mexia hurler. Mexia added one run in the ninth, but it wasn't enough.

Emhouse played errorless ball, and Mexia committed two miscues.

Rice edged Richland in a close battle, 8-7 at the Rice diamond.

The biggest score of the day was turned in by Mexia's Gushers, who swamped Pursley, 25-4 in Pursley. Johnny Shipp and Billy Day each collected homers for the winners, and Johnny Marberry got five hits in six trips.

The Gushers got 28 hits and committed 4 bobbles, while Pursley got 4 hits and made 4 errors. Frank Romain and Charles Shipp divided pitching duties for the winners, Romain going the first 8 stanzas and Shipp handling the ninth.

CORSICANA RACERS RELATE EXPERIENCES IN STOCK CAR MARATHON ACROSS MEXICO

Roy Pat Connor and Robert Owen, drivers of the Ambassador Nash that won third place in the international stock car race from Juarez, Mexico, to Guatamala, returned home Saturday in the automobile.

The two drivers enthusiastically stated they would return to the second international race next year, and would profit from a number of mistakes this year.

Connor, of the Connor-Green Nash Company here, drove the entry in the 2,193 mile race until the final 180 miles when illness forced him out. He turned the car over to Owen, who drove the final stretch, accompanied by another driver.

Discussing the disqualification of the Corsicana entry in favor of the fourth place man and the approximately $5,800 prize, Connor said that all drivers had technically violated regulations during the gruelling race, and he had suggested that the entire purse be turned over to Mexican charities—and that he was filing a protest to giving the money to the fourth place entry. The disqualification was for the other driver the final day.

"What burned me up was that we were singled out when all had violated technical regulations," Connor said.

The rider with Owen did not drive or help change a tire, Connor said.

"We'll be back next year with two or three entries," both Corsicanans declared, and added they would have a pick-up truck with extra American-made tires, water, etc. A Mexican-made set of tires were worn out each day.

Nine blowouts were blamed for the loss of the race, along with ignorance of driving conditions and the route in the mountains. The two drivers finishing ahead had driven over the route and were professional drivers, according to Connor. The winner was only 13 minutes ahead of the Corsicanans.

The road was black-top except the last 180 miles in the mountains that was gravel and mud.

"The people treated us like kings—they were most hospitable," Connor said, and then he complimented the officials of the race for the manner in which they conducted the first international event.

The last three days of the race was run in second gear since the brakes had been ruined in the first leg of the competition, he said.

Murder Found By Liquor Raiders At Tourist Court

TULSA, Okla., May 22.—(AP)—A shoe believed lost by a gunman is the sole clue officers have today in the slaying of a Tulsa man. His body was found while gambling and liquor raiders were striking on direct order of Gov. Roy J. Turner Sunday.

Flying squads of 52 state officers stumbled onto the body of E. R. (Happy) Hileman, 55, of Tulsa. He was found slumped over a chair where he works at the Bel-Air tourist courts in Creek county between here and Sapulpa.

C. C. Wilcox, owner of the courts, was held for questioning today.

The raiders closed in on the place shortly after five Oklahoma A & M College students reported finding the body. The students said they had gone there to buy bootleg whisky.

Plea By Parents Of Girl Gets Reprieve For Convicted Rapist

HUNTSVILLE, May 20.—(AP)—A plea by the parents of the little girl he was convicted of raping gave William R. Ray a 20-day reprieve from the electric chair.

Gov. Alan Shivers approved late Friday a reprieve recommended by the state board of pardons and paroles. The board made the recommendation in Austin after hearing a plea from the parents of the nine-year old Fort Worth girl.

Ray had been scheduled to die in the electric chair early this morning.

Upon hearing that he was saved temporarily from death, Ray broke down and cried.

"It certainly is wonderful," he said. "I want to thank those people from the bottom of my heart. I don't know what did it except prayer."

The child's parents asked that the death sentence be commuted to life imprisonment. The governor approved the stay by telephone from Amarillo.

Prison Chaplain B. G. Anderson took the word of the stay to Ray in the death cell. A few minutes later Ray agreed to see a reporter.

"I never gave up," he said. "I just got through writing my mother and sister my last letter."

Ray said he was shocked and surprised that the girl's parents had saved him. "I know my mother must be very happy," he said.

An ambulance from Vernon which was on its way to Huntsville to return the body of William R. Ray was stopped by Corsicana police late Friday.

When word was received that Ray had been given a 20-day stay the police station here was notified to stop the ambulance and have it return to Vernon

Officer Frank Chapman caught the vehicle as it passed through the city.

Then he wept.

"Nobody knows how it is," he said, "and I want to tell everyone who prayed for me that I appreciate it from the bottom of my heart. I know that prayer must have done it."

Ray's mother waited in Austin until she learned that the reprieve had been approved. Then she left for Huntsville.

The board recommended the reprieve after the parents presented a written statement asking commutation of the sentence "for the sake of our children and our own convictions."

The recommendation was raced to the governors' office where it in turn was relayed by telephone to Amarillo for swift final action.

"Is there anything else you would like to say?" Board Chairman R. A. Schmid asked the couple after the statement was prepared.

"I don't believe I have anything else to say," the father said. "I might add that it's our own free will that we're doing this. No pressure has been brought on us. We just felt like we wanted to do this."

The mother made no comment.

Schmid said the board's recommendation for reprieve was "due to the unusual request" of the victim's parents.

During the day, the Navarro county attorney had rejected the plea of Mrs. Ader B. Ray of Vernon, the mother, that he recommend a stay of execution for the 35-year old former air force sergeant-cook.

Ray, slender, blackhaired and sallow-faced, is married and has a four-year old daughter. His wife, Mary, a native of Wisconsin, reportedly has returned to her parent's home there with the child.

BANISTER COMMENTS.

Commenting on rapist William R. Ray's temporary lease on life, County Attorney Charles T. Banister declared Saturday:

"My understanding was that the parents of the girl wanted the highest penalty of the law invoked."

Banister indicated surprise at the parents' plea for Ray's life before the pardon board Friday. He added, "From the standpoint of the law, the defendant received a fair trial, and the case was twice affirmed."

A delegation's appeal for a stay of execution recommendation was rejected Friday morning by Banister.

Mrs. Wallace tells her granddaughter, Maynell Wallace, over the phone how HADACOL brought relief to her.

Mrs. Belle Wallace, 449 Formwalt St., S. W., Atlanta, Ga., is so grateful to HADACOL for the blessings it has brought her that she has recommended HADACOL to a number of her friends. She told them she would pay for their bottles of HADACOL if it didn't help them. She explains with a smile that she hasn't had to pay any of her friends, because HADACOL has helped them.

Mrs. Wallace, who is 74 years old, has five children, seven grand-children and two great-grandchlidren. She was suffering from a deficiency of Vitamins B_1, B_2, Niacin and Iron, which HADACOL contains.

Mrs. Wallace said: "I couldn't sleep or eat until I started taking HADACOL. I'd lie awake and toss and turn until the small hours of the morning. I was highly nervous. I couldn't even thread a needle. But, since I've been taking HADACOL, my nerves are as steady as can be. I couldn't eat because when I did my stomach would puff and bloat and fill with gas. I am on the 7th bottle of HADACOL and my stomach is so much better.

Appetite Good

"I have a good appetite and my stomach does not bloat or fill with gas. I sleep like a log. I have recommended HADACOL to a number of friends and have told them that if it didn't help them, too, I'd pay for it, but I didn't have to because HADACOL did help them. HADACOL has done me more good than anything I have ever taken."

Why Be Satisfied With Temporary Relief?

HADACOL also helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (where Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ, and every part of your body—to the heart, liver, kidneys and lungs—(even to the eyes, hair and nails) to help repair the damage that such a deficiency may be causing there. Countless thousands are benefiting from HADACOL. Why don't you give it a chance to help you? Why continue to suffer? Remember, HADACOL doesn't give temporary relief. Instead, it treats the real cause of your illness when, as so often, it's due to such deficiencies. That's why it's so effective; that's why it is accomplishing such amazing results.

35 Get Diplomas At State Home's Commencement

By TALMADGE CANANT

Daily Sun Staff

A growing philosophy on the part of Americans that it is all right to "fudge" a little—if it's against the government, was described by Rob- Friday night as he brought the commencement address for 35 graduating Corsicana State Home seniors.

Calvert, former speaker of the Texas House and former chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, returned to the Home from which he himself graduated 27 years ago to address his remarks specifically to the graduating students.

Moyne Kelly, former State Home superintendent and now executive director for the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools, also a graduate of theHome, presented the diplomas.

"The tendency to cheat your government just a little bit is worse than it seems on the surface," Calvert told the seniors. "The theory that the purpose of a government is to support the people is a new and false sentiment. It is still the duty of the people to support the government.

"Most of you didn't come here of your own volition, but because of some unfortunate event which happened to your parents. The state—a beneficent state—stepped in and enfolded you," he said. "I can look back now, and I know that you have had here a home and advantages that many children do not have with their parents at home.

"You have had good superintendents, teachers, matrons. They have done their best to instill in you virtues that will enable you to repay Texas.

Owe Debt

"So far the state hasn't asked a great deal of you in return," Calvert said. "I say to you that you owe a debt that you can never repay, and that you ought to dedicate a part of your life in an attempt to repay it..

"On second thought there is a way to repay it. That is by being a good citizen.

"When you leave here tonight, you are going to have to make a choice pretty quick. This state is full of good people who want to help you, and it is true that no one gets along very well without friends. But nobody owes you anything.

"Adopt a philosophy of life that says you are going to live right, even though temptation comes. Play square."

Student Speeches

Calvert's speech followed Dorothy Edwards' salutatory address, which expressed thanks for "the foundation of our lives here," and DeWayne Weatherford's valedictory,, which cautioned against letting the thinking of a few people influence the thinking of all. Weatherford took valedictory honors with a scholastic average of 94. Both students received college scholarships.

The two addresses were divided by the song, "Graduation Day," sung by the senior class.

Superintendent M. E. Dumas introduced Calvert by saying that "there is not one other man in the state of Texas that has the interest of the State Home and its students more at heart."

Assistant Superintendent W. C. Murdock gave awards to the class favorites and to those winning them in typing, secretarial training, cosmetology and mechanics.

Dr. Leslie Kelton made the annual Kelton Short Story Awards. There was a tie for first place between Nancy Wright and Doris Cawthon, both senior graduating students. Both received cash awards.

Presentation of the senior graduating class was made by E. C. Watson. Moyne Kelly then presented the graduates their diplomas.

Rev. Milton O. Davis brought both the invocation and benediction. Miss Oma Lee Compbell played processional and recessional music.

Youth Center Dance Friday Night Climaxed CHS Annual "Class Day"

A dance at the Youth Center Friday night climaxed the annual "Class Day" for Corsicana High School seniors, who began their day of fun with a hilarious "Little Bit of Heaven" show in the CHS auditorium.

Mrs. Max Tatum, Youth Center director, was hostess at the evening social.

The Class Day actually started as school began Friday morning. In the words of Principal R. A. Armistead, "They really put on a style show."

He was referring to the seniors' dress—not in tacky garb, but the youngsters' best.

At noon the 1950 Corsican was issued, and at 6 p. m. a picnic was held at the city park.

The auditorium stunt, witnessed by some 300 persons, got under way at 2 p. m., when St. Peter (Charles Roy Bristow) began calling the roll of graduates and listing their various earthly professions. And each student then passed through the "Pearly Gates" into Heaven.

The comical affair featured a colorful array of costumes and make-up to go with the professions listed.

The program consisted of a piano solo by Jackquelyn George; a quartet number by Pat Brown, Jeanette Nichols, Ruth Elaine Foster and D'Wayne Howell; and a hill-billy band composed of Dickie Brown, Johnny Crawford, Charles Bridges and Wayne Ganze.

Tomato Fancier Worries Needlessly As Rain, Hail and Wind Blast City

J. A. Call and the J. N. Garittys of 402 West Seventh avenue had a restless night during the wind and hail storm Friday.

They were worried about Call's tomato patch.

The 89-year-old city farmer is Mrs. Garitty's father and he has been raising tomatoes for 75 years. His present crop he considers his best and it's the first crop he's planted in four years.

When the wind and hail started Friday night he was worried, so were the Garittys. They could hardly wait for day to break so an inspection of the patch could be made.

Early Saturday morning, fearing the worst, they gathered at the patch. Not a tomato had been harmed.

Call has 48 plants climbing sturdy poles. Some are over four feet high. Each plant has from 30 to 35 tomatoes and some are ase as big as a man's fist.

A tomato grower of long standing, Call starts his plants in gallon oil cans and nurses them to maturity. He uses cans so he can protect the young plants from heavy rains, etc.

Planted in his small patch are Rutgers, Marglobes, June Pinks and Early Annas. He said some of his previous Marglobes and June Pinks have weighed a pound or more.

Asked what he intended to do with all the tomatoes, he said:

"Why, we'll eat a lot of them and the rest will go to our friends."

Gardening isn't the only hobby of this near-nonagenarian. His poultry yard keeps the family in eggs and many of his fryers find their way into the Garitty deep-freeze. Recently he purchased 50 White Rocks. He said he usually is able to raise about 48 out of 50.

Call was asked if his son-in-law, Nick, was any help in the garden.

"Nick, he's a fine son-in-law, but he doesn't know a tomato plant from a weed. I let him look, that's all," he said.
